

In the PRC's storefront windows are three words—EDUCATION, EXHIBITIONS, and RESOURCES—that form the essence of the PRC. Below you will find information regarding education, public programs, membership, and resources that are equally a part of our 30th anniversary celebration during 2006/2007.

PUBLIC PROGRAMS

Panel Discussion: "Photography TBD" – Wednesday, November 15, 2006, 7pm

Boston University Photonics Center, Auditorium 206, 8 St. Mary's Street, Boston, Free

This program considers the current "state of the art" and its future in Boston and beyond. Panelists from the PRC/POV exhibition will reflect on the present and future conditions of their varied disciplines and professions, and consider the role they and Boston will play in the progression of photography and related media.

CONFERENCE: The Society for Photographic Education (SPE) Northeast Regional Conference, Intersections

Hosted by the PRC, December 1–3, 2006. Boston University's George Sherman Union, Conference Auditorium, 775 Commonwealth Ave. Boston
$75 PRC and SPE Members/ $10 Students / $100 non-members. Early registration is due November 18.

The conference features an exciting line-up of lectures, imagemaker presentations, and panel discussions. A special reception is being held for SPE and PRC members at the PRC on Friday, December 1, from 4–6 p.m. On Sunday, December 3, PRC and SPE members are invited to review their work with friends and peers at an informal portfolio sharing at the George Sherman Union. For complete descriptions, speaker biographies and to register visit www.spenortheast.org. Honored Educator: Jim Dow / Keynote Speaker: Chris Enos, founder of the PRC

New York Gallerist to Jury 2007 PRC Juried Exhibition, EXPOSURE

The PRC is pleased to announce that Jen Bekman, founder and director of jen bekman, a pioneering gallery in NYC's burgeoning Bowery arts district, will serve as the juror for our 2007 juried exhibition. Since its inaugural exhibition in March of 2003, jen bekman has attracted the attention of critics, museum curators, and collectors alike, with its focus on emerging artists and innovative group shows. Visit jenbekman.com to learn more and check out the gallery's fast-growing quarterly photography competition, Hey, Hot Shot! at heyhotshot.com. In celebration of our anniversary and to more accurately reflect the function of this renowned annual photography competition, we are changing the name of the PRC Members' Exhibition to EXPOSURE: The Annual PRC Juried Exhibition. While more information will be online soon and an entry form in the PRC's January/February newsletter, please note that the postmark and drop off deadline will be Saturday, February 10, 2007 for the May/June exhibition.

EDUCATION

School Tours and Responding to Photography Educator's Guide

The PRC offers free tours of its exhibitions for students in grades 2 through 12 as well as for college and university students. Visit our special PRC/POV website at prcboston.org to download the teacher's guide and to schedule a tour.

"In the Windows" : In our storefront windows will hang work by In-Sight Photography Project students—one of the PRC's nominated 30—alongside work by students participating in the PRC's new after-school photography program at Dorchester's Tech Boston Academy. Together, these talented young photographers truly represent the next 30 years of photography!
